For the Evening Telegraph. THE RUINED CASTLE. BY N. S. BEAD.

The old Tower stands where the hill-top trees Band to the breath of the upland breeze, Stands in its solitude alone, An olden cassa.

But crumbling, falling,
that once strong-hold,

Stands in its silence, sad-forlorn-Itawalls o'ergrown with the briery thorn, Mouldering brush, and rank weeds tall, And checking fretting, Choking up portal, path, and hall, the stranger who Would boldly wander the old house through, Night-owls build in the turret grey, yox and wolf through the great hall play, from the thickly tangled grass Hasthe wandering footsteps pass, > snarling, lonely, bold,

Modern lords of the castle old. The summer rains find an easy pass Through the crumbling roof and the broken glass.

snapping,

Or the winter winds with a relish keen Whistle 'mongst rafter, stone, and beam, And gaily, hold carouse Through the halls of the old deserted house. The daylight peers with a curious eye Through the broken panes of the window high,

And the ever-cheerful sunbeams glare On ancient rive.

And glimmering, shimmering, sadly cast A gloomy smile o'er the ruined past.

Few wander there, when the gloomy eve Brings to the day a glad reprieve— They fear to see through the twilight air— Some olden knight, or his "ladye fair;" Some ghostly, ghastly, fearful sight-Some elfin dwarf, or goblin sprite.

HEAVY FRAUDS PERPETRATED UPON THE GOV-ERNMENT-THE PARTIES ARE COMMITTED IN DE-FAULT OF $50,000.—At a late hour yesterday afternoon an exceedingly important case, involving $100,000, came up before United States Commissioner Smith. The defendant, one James J. Hertford, alias John Collins, was charged with defrauding the United States Government out of a large sum of money. The charge on which the defendant was arrested states that, on the 18th of February, 1867, he (defendant) executed and signed a false and fraudulent bond, required by law, for the purpose of withdrawing distilled spirits from a bonded warehouse.

The prosecution was represented by Charles Gilpin, Esq., United States District Attorney, and Mr. Valentine, Lewis C. Cassidy, Esq., appeared on behalf of the prisoner.

It was given in evidence by the prosecution that Hertford, alias Collins, had defrauded the Government out of the legal tax on at least $100,000 worth of distilled liquors, by means of executing false bonds.

Mr. Samuel M. Zulick, Collector of the Third District, was the first witness called. He testified that he recognized the defendant as the in-dividual who signed a bond in his presence of the amount of $23,000; the bond was signed by two other men, unknown to the witness, but search was now being made for them.

John W. Warner testified that he was a regular agent of the United States Treasury Department; he arrested Hertford on the 18th of May, at No. 417 Congress street, Detroit, Michigan, at at No. 417 Congress street, Detroit, Michigan, at 1½ o'clock in the afternoon; he arrested him under the name of James J. Hertford; witness went to his residence and saw the wife of defendant, and asked her if Mr. Joseph Hertford was in; received an answer in the negative, and then asked if Mr. James Hertford was in; was told yes, and shortly afterwards defendant made his appearance, and when he stated his name was larges. Hertford witness took him into was James J. Hertford, witness took him into custody, after showing his warrant, and brought him to Philadelphia; witness had never seen defendant before he met him in Detroit; Detec-tive Watson, of New York, accompanied wit-ness to Detroit; he had heard of and received a description of the prisoner before he went to Detroit to arrest him.

Mr. Valentine stated that other bonds were at and which would prove that the defendant had defranded the Government to a very large amount, and asked that he be held to answer in the sum of $50,000. Mr. Cassidy strenuously objected to such very heavy bail, and stated there was no parallel for it in any case of the kind. After a short delibe-ration the Commissioner decided to hold the prisoner in $50,000, in default of which he was committed.

AN HONEST Boy .- The wife of one of our prominent citizens lost, on Saturday last, a diamond ring. On the same afternoon a poor little boy went to the house of the gentleman with the ring, and was about leaving when was called back and received $25. He said he was glad to get the money to give to his parenta, were bard-working and very poor people, it would help them so much. His father and it would help them so much. His father and mother told him to return the ring at once, showing that honesty exists where some might suppose it is not always to be found. This boy will be remembered by the gentleman should be ever need a friend or assistance.

TEMPERANCE CONSOLIDATION .- An adjourned meeting was held last evening of representaives of the different temperance societies, with the view of consolidating the several associa-tions under one head, to be known as the Philadelphia Temperance Society.

Serious Casualty .- Last evening about 7 o'clock Watson Keely, a child seven years of age, fell from the third-story window of his parents' residence, rear of No. 1115 Hope street. Both legs were broken, and the child received serious internal injuries.

FURTHER APPOINTMENT. - As Register in Bankruptcy for the First District of this State, Chief Justice Chase has nominated James Par-sons, Esq., and the nomination has been approved by Judge Cadwalader.

As a consequence attendant on the character of such an Institution, the great majority of cases are of a very complicated character; and in most instances are of a hopeless nature, shortly after my connection with this institution a very bad case of Physical Debility a deperal prostration attracted my special attention, and from the reputation, which Mishler's Herb Eitters had obtained, I imagined its use would be attended with good results. I caused it to be administered, and found that it fully justified the opinion I had formed of it. The success I had met with in this case encouraged me to still further test it, and I have since used it in a great many cases of Rheumatism, Secondary Syphilis, Asthma, and various other diseases, andinvariably with the best results. In many instances, when other remedies had failed, Mishler's Herb Bitters restored them to perfect health, and enabled them to leave the Institution and earn their own living, thus releasing the county from charge for their support. I am therefore convinced that Mishler's Herb Bitters are really what the proprietor calls them, "A certain Remedy" for the Diseases for which they are recommended.
